Taste Authentic Japanese Cuisine from Japan's New Otani Hotel in the Heart of Quezon City

■ Fumizen quality of taste, ingredients, and hospitality

A long history that spans more than 40 years, Fumizen has always set quality as the topmost priority. First established in Hotel New Otani in Tokyo, Japan, guests can instantly feel the "at-home" vibe in our place. Along with the great hospitality that we have is the freshly made and delicious tonkatsu or deep-fried breaded pork cutlet which guests can indulge in for a reasonable price. As a proof of our tonkatsu's greatness, the Japanese Prime Minister and other celebrities were also pleased with the food that we serve. Further, with our cuisine with premium flavors from the meat, to its sauce and rice, well-known people have been one of our frequent diners.

In the Philippines, the number of tonkatsu restaurants has been continuously increasing, and most of them have said to offer the original taste of tonkatsu. However, Fumizen has introduced the peerless Japanese quality and the signature Fumizen taste to the Philippine's food scene.

Perfect for everyone, Fumizen also offers private rooms for families and small business gatherings.

■ A sought-after bar on the third floor

After a generous amount of delicious meal, our diners and guests who would like to have a relaxing time can have fun in our new bar on the third floor, established in February. Cold beers, exhilarating cocktails, and whiskey are available for our guests and diners. For added fun, we also have a DJ booth, performers, and Poker room to boost the party vibe.

If you would like to visit and experience Fumizen, our restaurant is in the central business district of Quezon City. Do not worry about your car as we have allotted some space for parking lots, too! Feel at home while you enjoy authentic tonkatsu here in Fumizen!

Features of the Issue

STREET – In a short span of time, what were once day-to-day routines for everyone became rather rare occasions to come by again—going out for grocery runs, working in office buildings, walking at the park, and eating out with friends and family to mention a few. And along with the extension of the community quarantine comes the budding itch of people for some sense of normalcy again. Thankfully, the F&B sector is slowly offering such albeit limited operations. In this month's feature, let Philippine Primer give you a vital refresher on the numerous food establishments that have opened their doors to resume treating everyone with products that have become staple parts of one's everyday life.

JAPAN SPECIAL – Hokkaido boasts of an ever-changing landscape depending on the season, which is arguably magnificent all-year-round regardless of its varying facets. For one, the long and freezing winter of this prefecture makes it a dreamy winter wonderland. So bundle up and discover the charms of Hokkaido while it is drenched in whiteness, as we offer you a trip through snow-based activities, festivals, hot springs, onsens, and otherworldliness attractions like volcanic craters and geysers, which collectively make it one of the most hauntingly beautiful and breathtaking prefectures in Japan.

A Food Delivery Guide in the Time of Community Quarantine

Feature by Shairah Nabong and Kaycee Villamater
Design by Janina Torres

The concept of having items delivered by just a few clicks online is not merely a choice given to consumers now—rather, it is a way of life etched in the normal current of our modern society. And when things go awry just like how the months-long community quarantine has put the country's, including Metro Manila's, everyday life off the course due to COVID-19, such delivery services are needed and vital as ever.

So while most people stay at home and only essential establishments like food-related ones are allowed to operate, we rounded up those that can cater to one's mealtime needs and cravings—from the restaurants down to the grocery stores around the metro.

winter in HOKKAIDO

Hokkaido's landscapes are magnificent all year round but the long and freezing winters of this prefecture make it a dreamy winter wonderland. Bundle up and discover the charms of Hokkaido in winter from snow-based activities such as skiing, snowboarding, and ice-fishing at mirror-like frozen lakes, to riding up a gondola and getting an unspoiled view of the icy mountains.

Winters in Hokkaido are also best enjoyed during snow festivals. Several cities like Sapporo, Otaru, and Chitose hosts winter festivals yearly featuring some of the biggest and brightest snow statues, ice sculptures, lights, and snow lanterns. Even in the most uneventful days in Hokkaido, winters are also experienced through strolling along the streets planted with icy-covered branches of trees illuminated with glittering lights. Then before calling it a night, get yourselves heat up with Hokkaido's soul foods and famed beer.

Often frequented by tourists for its powdery snow, Hokkaido is also equivalent to relaxing hot springs and onsens that came from otherworldliness attractions such as volcanic craters and geysers. Not to mention that the laid-back community of the urban areas and the wilderness boasting unique flora and fauna makes Hokkaido a destination that is even more than just its weather. More so, Hokkaido is one of the most hauntingly beautiful and breathtaking prefectures in Japan.

HAKODATE NANAE SNOW PARK

Hakodate Nanae Snow Park is a popular skiing and snowboarding attraction in south Hokkaido area that also features one of the longest gondola lifts in Japan with a length of 3,319m. The gondola ride takes about 15 minutes to bring you to the highest peak and will pass through the awe-inspiring hoarfrost that surrounds the park during winter. A round trip gondola ride costs ¥1,800 while a one-way ride cost ¥1,200.

Guests may also take advantage of the wide slopes on the mountaintop and enjoy various skiing and snowboarding courses that are safe even for beginners.

Among the courses that beginners can try are the Onuma or Family courses with a maximum slope of 11° to 15°. For intermediate courses, they have the champion or challenge courses that are a little tricky with a few bumps along the way. For advanced courses, they have the Todomatsu course that takes advantage of natural undulations with a maximum slope of 24°.

Guests may also take lessons from the three in-house skiing and snowboarding schools: Hakodate Onuma Skiing and snowboarding School, Nane Ski School, and Let's Ski School.

TAKUBOKU PARK

Takuboku Park isn't pretty much any other big parks around Hakodate. It is relatively small and is strategically located along the highway of Isaribidori perfectly backdropped with a beach that overlooks the nearby towns and the Tsugaru Strait. The park is named after Takuboku Ishikawa, a poet who loves this place.

Although tourists aren't allowed to swim at the beach area, exploring the beach area can lead to finding kelps or large and brown seaweeds that often grow on saltwater near the coastal area. Considering that the park is small, picnics aren't encouraged here but on the coastline, there is a small shed with benches wherein guests can sit and take in the serene and calming sound of the waves. The place is a good quick stopover for picture taking and is just along the way to Hakodate Tropical Botanical Garden or the Hot-Tubbing Monkeys.

HAKODATE ILLUMINATION

During the day, the slopes of motomachi remind us of the old port town of Hakodate, but at nights of winter, the sloping streets of Hachimanzaka and Nijukkenzaka transform into dreamy and glittering lights called Hakodate Illumination. Night strolling in winter can be magical especially along the streets of the illuminations as it is also just a few streets away from the churches, the old public hall, and the bay area of Hakodate. You can catch Hakodate Illumination from sunset to 10 pm starting December to late February.

ONUMA QUASI-NATIONAL PARK

Onuma Quasi-National Park's stunning landscapes differ every season but winters at the park set the breathtaking Mount Komagatake in its background and Lake Onuma, Lake Konuma, and Lake Junsainuma at its foot, in a snow-covered winter wonderland.

Exploring the national park comes in fun different ways. Guests can try out snowshoeing and hike up the snowy mountains. Rental shops offer anti-slip boots. A hike up the summit usually lasts for an hour and from there, you'll get a magnificent view of the park. Those who would like some thrill and excitement can opt to try snowmobiling at the frozen lake of Onuma where you'll get the chance to learn to drive a snowmobile and roam around the expansive 2km course of the park.

Among the other activities to experience at the national park during winters are skiing and snowboarding, and probably one of the most unique attractions in Hokkaido, the ice fishing for pond smelt or small freshwater fishes that inhabits the arctic. These pond smelts are also a popular souvenir among visitors as they are often preserved in skewers with a sweet and salty flavor. Guests who will be trying out ice fishing can also have their catch deep-fried into tempura!

GORYOKAKU PARK

Goryokaku Park is one of the many tourist attractions one can visit at any given season. While it is mostly known for its beaming cherry blossoms during spring, winter in the park is splattered and covered with elegant white snow giving that haunting yet amusing walking experience.

Winter in the park isn't similar to spring. Thousands of cherry blossoms aren't in full bloom but its branches are covered with snow. During the winter season, you can catch the Dream of Pentagonal Stars or also known as Hoshi-no-Yume where 2,000 lights illuminate the star-shaped moat and you can witness and find a good view of it at the Goryokaku Tower.

Goryokaku Tower stands 107 meters tall and is considered as an observatory of the park and the nearby cities. The first floor of the tower is dedicated to Goryokaku's various original goods.

On the second floor of the tower is the exhibition space where you'll find Goryokaku's History corridor. Here you can learn Hakodate's history through various photos, diagrams, statues, and models. It is also the best place to get a bird's eye view of the breathtaking star-shaped park.

NOBORIBETSU JIGOKUDANI (HELL VALLEY)

The sources of hot springs around Japan are often projected in a majestic backdrop of mountains and lakes but in the hot spring town of Noboribetsu, the natural wonder also known as Jigokudani is an otherworldliness attraction made up of volcanic rocks and blessed with abundant boiling waters and steams.

Jigokudani or Hell Valley is a 27-acre smoking crater born after the eruption of Mt. Hiyori thousands of years ago. Hot spring waters from around the town flow through them and various sulfurous ponds, rivers, and natural foot baths surround the valley.

The valley is accessible in every season. Although autumns are equivalent to enchanting forest strolling, winters at the valley are quite different as some foot baths and walking trails are closed. Apart from snows, rain is also expected during the winter season so guests who would like to avail rain boots and umbrellas can visit the Noboribetsu Park Service Center.

The Noboribetsu Gateway Center also offers guided trekking and snowshoeing adventures. As well as souvenir items and restrooms. Admission is free and parking areas are available.

HAKODATE TROPICAL BOTANICAL GARDEN

Hokkaido is often associated with winters and while finding a tropical botanical garden is quite impossible in Hokkaido, Hakodate Tropical Botanical Garden is an innovative attraction where one could actually feel summer even without leaving the cold and dreamy weather of Hokkaido.

Hakodate Tropical Botanical Garden is also home to the famed hot-tubbing Japanese monkeys. You can only see them from early December to early May and is located in an open area just outside the botanical garden. It is filled with hot spring waters and monkeys soaking themselves and chilling out. Visitors are given some snacks upon entering and are allowed to feed the monkeys with only the snacks that were given.

The Botanical Garden, on the other hand, is where you'll find the most exotic flowers and trees of Hokkaido. The greenhouse has over 3,000 tropical plants with flowers blooming all-year-round like bougainvillea and hibiscus. Apart from flowers, the greenhouse also grows bananas and lemons!

Apart from the hot-tubbing monkeys and the botanical garden, it also houses a foot bath, a playground, and a water square that are often popular during summertime.

SHIKABE KANKETSUSEN PARK

Winter in Hokkaido is equivalent to the awe-inspiring hot springs you'll find in many places including the highway of Shikabe. Shikabe Kanketsusen Park is a unique tourist attraction boasting a geyser park, a hot spring area, and an observation deck overlooking Mt. Komagatake and Funkawan Bay.

Meanwhile, the main highlight is the park tucked behind the product center. It opens up to a small museum-like hallway or cave tunnel that offers various learning information about geysers. Geysers are unique surfaces on Earth, similar to a small volcano, that discharges water with steam every few minutes. The geyser gushes about 15 meters high of water with over 100°C.

The hallway then opens up to a Japanese garden, where you'll find the geyser itself, the hot spring area and the Chobo-no-Yakata or observation deck where you can get an up-close look of the geyser. Just across the geyser is the hot spring area, a popular foot bath that is said to have healing properties such as nerves, muscles, joint pains, and sprains to name a few.
